In a memorandum opinion and order dated November 23, 2020 (Doc. #5)¹, the Court accepted Rosheen Hilliard's representation that he did not wish to pursue relief pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2255; and thus, the Court did not construe his September 29, 2020, submission (Doc. #1) as a Section 2255 motion.

In response, Hilliard filed a lengthy and difficult to understand letter, dated December 1, 2020 (Doc. #6), in which he seems to be saying both that he is not attacking or challenging the validity of his conviction or sentence, but that he is seeking to be released on the ground that his sentence was imposed in violation of the Constitution and laws of the United States. Since it is not clear exactly what relief Hilliard is seeking, or the procedural vehicle he is seeking to utilize, the Court will not entertain Hilliard's latest submission as a proper challenge to his conviction and sentence. Accordingly, to the extent petitioner is requesting any relief in his December 1 letter, that request is DENIED without prejudice to Hilliard's filing a Section 2255 motion in the proper form.

¹ "Doc. #__" refers to documents filed in the Court's Electronic Case Filing docket for case number 20cv8151.

If Hilliard is seeking any relief from his conviction or sentence, he must file a motion under Section 2255. Attached hereto is the form petitioner must use to file a Section 2255 motion. The form includes instructions for filing such a motion.

To be clear, the Court will not consider any challenges to Hilliard's conviction or sentence except in a properly filed Section 2255 motion.

The government shall not file an answer at this time. If and when Hilliard files a proper Section 2255 motion, the Court will direct the government to file an answer or other pleadings in response to the motion.

As petitioner has not made a "substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right," a certificate of appealability will not issue. 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(2).

The Court certifies pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3) that any appeal from this order would not be taken in good faith, and therefore in forma pauperis status is denied for the purpose of an appeal. See Coppedge v. United States, 369 U.S. 438, 444-45 (1962).

Chambers will mail a copy of this Order to petitioner at the following address:

Instructions for Filing
Motion under 28 U.S.C. § 2255

1. Who should use this form: You may use this form if you are in custody (such as in prison or subject to supervised release) based on a federal court conviction and you are asking for relief from the conviction or sentence. You must file the motion in the federal district court that entered the judgment that you are challenging and include all grounds for relief. State the facts that support each ground. If you fail to set forth all the grounds in this motion, you may be barred from presenting additional grounds later.
2. Who should not use this form: Do not use this form if you want to challenge the validity of a state court judgment of conviction and sentence. To challenge a state court judgment, you must first exhaust your state court remedies in the state appellate process and then file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2254 in the federal district court where your state judgment of conviction was entered. If you are in federal custody or subject to a custodial order of the United States and wish to challenge the execution – not the validity – of your federal conviction or sentence (such as, for example, that the BOP miscalculated a sentence or failed to award good time credits properly), you should file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (For Prisoners) in the federal district court where you are confined. If you want to challenge your immigration detention, you may use the form Petition for a Writ of Habeas Corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (For Immigration Matters).
3. Caption: The caption is located in the top left corner on the first page of the petition. You, as the person filing the petition, are the “petitioner.” Generally, the Warden or Superintendent of the institution in which you are confined is the “respondent.” The respondent may also be the government official responsible for your confinement.
4. Signature: The petition must be signed with a pen.
5. Fee: There is no filing fee for a motion brought under 28 U.S.C. § 2255.
